

Legal Aspects of Human Resources Management

November 3-4, 2010

Hyatt Regency Savannah
Savannah, Georgia

“Verdicts in both discrimination and retaliation lawsuits resulted in the highest median awards to plaintiffs.”

(Trends in Employment Practice Liability: Jury Trends and Statistics – 2008 Edition by Jury Verdict Research)

“The average settlement award for a lawsuit alleging violations of state wage and hour laws is $24.4 million.”

(Measuring the Value of Class and Collective Action Employment Settlements: A Preliminary Assessment reported in Human Resources Executive, March 2, 2009)

We have seen a rising trend in human resources law suits, both individual and class actions, in the United States. The results of litigation can be devastating in terms of dollars, time and the reputation of your organization. Legal Aspects of Human Resources Management will discuss major legislation that all managers need to be familiar with and will offer guidance to help avoid employee complaints, grievances and litigation. The workshop begins with a thorough discussion of the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act that relate directly to Head Start and human services organizations. An overview of the Family and Medical Leave Act will highlight areas of FMLA that are difficult to administer and that can place the organization at risk.

At the core of Head Start and human services organizations should be a commitment to fair, non-discriminatory treatment of both employees and clients. A discussion of the Civil Rights Act and related legislation will ensure that participants understand the various aspects of discrimination and learn how to avoid engaging in any discriminatory behaviors.

The final focus of the seminar will be the work environment. Trainers will address the employer's responsibility to create environments free from sexual harassment and hostility, avoid retaliatory actions, and protect whistle blowers. In addition to sharing information to include in training for employees, the trainers will also explore practices to help ensure healthy work environments.

The Standard Registration Fee is $350 per person. Members of T/TAS@Your Service may qualify for the Subscriber Rate of $330 per person. (Some restrictions may apply based on the level of your subscription; please visit www.ttas.org/ays.html for information on how to become a subscriber.) For details on registering, including information on earning .975 Continuing Education Units (CEUs) for this event, please see page 3.

Learning Outcomes

- ★ Participants will learn about the major laws governing human resources and key areas of risk in human resources management.
- ★ Participants will become familiar with the most important elements of the Fair Labor Standards Act as they relate to managing human resources in Head Start and human services programs.
- ★ Participants will apply practices to avoid discrimination, comply with the Civil Rights Act, Equal Pay Act and Fair Pay Act, and avoid - but when necessary, respond to - complaints to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).
- ★ Participants will explore policies and procedures that will ensure compliance with the Family and Medical Leave Act; sexual harassment and hostile work environments; and retaliation and whistle blower protections.

For more information, call 800-882-7482 or visit www.ttas.org

- ★ Participants will better understand rules of evidence and when and how to investigate questions or complaints.
